

As Featured in The Palm Beach Post
November, 2002
Written by Scott Simmons

Chow Down

Luna. Two words sum it up – garlic knots.

Oh the pizza is lovely, the pasta divine, but it's those pungent twists of dough that keep us coming back to this downtown Stuart gathering place.

The aromas of tomato sauces and garlic waft along Southwest Flagler Avenue, and it's a rare evening that there isn't a wait for a table at the small place. But it's worth it.

In a hurry? Luna has a takeout window that's perfect for grabbing a snack. Just remember: Bring cash – they don't take credit cards.

Next time you're in downtown Stuart, stop in at Luna and order a salad or pizza. Start off with a half-dozen garlic knots. Be prepared to fight off your table mates. You'll savor victory.

Luna, 49S S.W. Flagler Avenue, Stuart. Phone: (772) 288-0550.